

"Man is the Measure of all Things."

Protagoras of Abdera (c .480-410 B.C.)

"The workings of the human body are an analogy for the workings of the universe."

Leonardo da Vinci
(April 15, 1452 – May 2, 1519)

www.johnjayharper.com

Suns of God

by John Jay Harper,

based upon his book Tranceformers: Shamans of the 21st Century

ABSTRACT: The Great Pyramid at Giza contains the secret to the eternal cycle of life, death and rebirth in our cosmos; the so-called Riddle of the Sphinx. This article reveals that formula of reincarnation within the star clusters of the Orion Nebula. In fact, it is the same story of creation embodied in the design of crop circles, sacred site stone megaliths, and the Zodiac that speaks to our origins and destiny as a star-seeding civilization. Indeed, there is an ancient yet modern truth bar-coded into our genes: The human soul is a magnetic monopole but as the Egyptians realized our soul splits into twins, the Ka and Ba. These two bipolar entities however must be restored to integrity, wholeness, here and now in order to open the star gates to our physical immortality. This is the meaning to what Jesus commanded in the Gospel of Thomas: “Make the two, one again!” He was speaking to the science of soul: Kabbalah. The focus of the mystery school initiations was to “cross oneself” by aligning the seven major chakras with the subtle energy grid matrix of the Earth, Sun and Galaxy: The Cross of Christ. This then is the meaning to the Second Coming of the Suns of God: Jesus, Osiris, Quetzalcoatl, and many other superstars in era-2012.

Introduction

Once upon a time in the outskirts of the Milky Way Galaxy, creatures calling themselves homo sapiens, a Latin word meaning “wise or knowing man” lived in one of its smaller solar systems on a very small planet they nicknamed “dirt” or Earth.

Ironically, they were not wise, knowing—or unique.

They had simply forgotten their birth origins and destiny as celestial beings of the Orion Nebula, the birthplace of stars, the Suns of God on Earth.

So over the course of centuries, as they gazed into the night sky sitting around campfires yearning for clues, a sign from on high, they told each other creation stories, myths, and performed acts, rituals, to explain why they were in this predicament.

Some religionists said they sinned against a god, in one form or another, a being that had returned to the sky. That they were now quarantined on Earth until a “savior,” in one form or another, returned as promised at the end-of-time.

Others of these so-called “wise men” known as scientists taught humans were accidents of a blind and dumb gene-generating universe; freaks of nature, that gods and saviors did not even exist.

But then these myths and rituals, especially the ancient symbols used in astrology began to make sense, add-up, with the modern observations of astronomy. One of these homo sapiens named Carl Sagan even mused: “Some 25 million years ago, a Galactic survey ship on a routine visit to the third planet of a relatively common G dwarf star, our Sun, may have noted an interesting and promising evolutionary development: Proconsul, the ancestor of homo sapiens, or modern man.”

Archaeologist, historian, and mythologist also known as D.M. Murdock, conclusively documents that major world religions are in fact founded upon an astro-theology: the story of stars as gods sent down from heaven to earth to save men from ignorance.

The larger realization based upon the overwhelming evidence suggests these humans represented the gods as action heroes on the ground to the people as she catalogues in her book Suns of God: Krishna, Buddha, and Christ Unveiled. Of course, we have Jesus himself saying: “I have said, you are gods; and all of you are children of the most High.”

Nonetheless, once we saw the creation story focused through the lens of Galileo and later Hubble and Herschel telescopes, the lights came on to full-star power again across the entire spectrum of science and religion theories of origins.

And a whole new way of seeing ourselves not as freaks of nature but as a planned family of genetically engineered, star seeded, celestial beings emerged. Clearly, the occult, or hidden, records collected by esoteric societies were beginning to pay rich dividends too with respect to our relationship to stars.

One of these pioneers, Alice Bailey, reported: “In the secret of the Sun Sirius are hidden the facts of our cosmic evolution, and incidentally, therefore, of our solar system. The Sirius System is always beaming helpful rays to the poor people of Earth who wallow in appalling ignorance, violence, and oppression.”

Suddenly the musings of mystics, shamans, and prophets of every culture made more sense, fit a pattern mirrored by stone structures at sacred sites worldwide; in particular Asia, Egypt, Mexico, England as well as the Hopi Nation in North America and Inca Empire in South America.

Egyptologist Wallis Budge, and others, linked the stars in Sirius, Orion, and Pleiades with emitting spiritual rays of light that “vivify gods, men, cattle, and creeping things ... out of the seed of the soul.” Budge even declared, “The mention of Orion and Sothis (Sirius) is interesting, for it shows that at one time the Egyptians believed that these stars were the homes of departed souls.”

This rediscovered truth is straight-forward: We humans were designed to operate on a cosmic larger-than-life scale, as a “superman” mystics called Adam Kadmon, and artist Leonardo Da Vinci portrayed as perfection personified in The Vitruvian Man. That is, our human body was the mathematical mirror-image of the Phi ratio Fibonacci series spiral, the golden mean of the Cosmos.

Overall, we see our self-image in a new light as that of a “superstar,” the Sun of God, in fact, what theologian Matthew Fox calls The Cosmic Christ.

Plato was very clear in his treatise, Timaeus, that God made “souls in equal number with the stars and distributed them, each soul to its several star, and he who should live well for his due span of time should journey back to the habitation of his consort star.”

“Consciousness is King,” proclaimed philosopher of Rome, Plotinus, in the 3rd century A.D.

This then is true hidden knowledge: Stars are conscious beings of light and co-create planets for the development of infinite Christs-in-potential!

Gregory Sams, co-founder of the Harmony/Whole Earth Foods outlets in the United Kingdom, chaos theory expert, and now bestselling author of Sun of God: Consciousness and the Self-Organizing Force that Underlies Everything has it spot on: “This is the greatest cover-up in history!”

In other words, human beings are created to live eternally as physical beings made of sunlight. We are Children of the Sun, and the Sun behind the Sun, the Mother Star Clusters in the Orion Nebula of our Milky Way Galaxy.

The Orion Nebula is the birthplace of our Sun’s solar system and its lifecycle known as World Sun Ages. The Maya, for example, saw the rebirth of Earth as beginning the Fifth Sun Age on December 22, 2012.

Ancients saw how species are seeded and mutated by starbursts, supernova explosions, solar flares, and Coronal Mass Ejections, or CMEs, as well as advanced civilizations. They saw cross-breeding between gods and men potentially helped evolve new cosmic creatures in an infinite loop of creation, destruction, and recreation: the life, death, and rebirth cycle of Suns of God.

This was hinted in the Holy Bible that such was the case as in Genesis 6:4: “There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown.”

Now scientists agree: we are Star Children:

“In a very real sense,” says University of Illinois astrophysicist Larry Smarr, “we are the grandchildren of supernovas.”

Harvard professor of astronomy, Robert Kirshner, says, “Generations of supernovas created the elements we take for granted—the oxygen we breathe, the calcium in our bones, and the iron in your blood are products of the stars.”

Fascinatingly enough, these sacred site ruins that we have turned into tourist traps can now become star map repositories of invaluable star seed information to reclaim our origins and destiny according to many scholars of them today.

And as we dug deeper into the forensic evidence of sacred sites, examined the blood, bone, and stones, so to speak; we decoded the meaning of the 12 signs of the times: the houses, mansions, or constellations the Greeks named Zodiac, or Circle of Animals. Again, it was Jesus who said: “In my Father’s house are many mansions, I go and prepare a place for you.”

So Zodiac signs were used to assign specific energy signatures to stars in the night sky with stones carefully crafted on-the-ground to create a mirror-image of their consciousness traits. This maps the 12 characteristics of constellations. Our own star's lifecycle through time and eternity in what we know now as a 26,000 year precession of the equinox of The Great Year.

Naturopathic health practitioner Amalia Camateros, proclaimed in her book Spirit of the Stones: A Revival of Earth Wisdom, based upon insights into the Anasazi of the American Southwest: "This knowledge was stored in the rocks as living libraries and kept safe within until a future time."

Stones are in effect sponges: they absorb and store consciousness that is carried by 12-rays of sunlight. Our human brain has 12 cranial nerves and earth 12 major tectonic plates to process light energy through them too. Needless to say, 12 is a key number to life, death, and rebirth as it defines, partitions, or sectors space itself into 12 signs of the Zodiac.

Perhaps, that is the greatest insights of so-called pagan cultures; they saw space is alive, conscious, with the ebb and flow of subtle solar radiation energy pulsations permeating everything forever. There isn't anything new under the Sun other than a cosmic recycling program of celestial beings through a mixing and matching of star systems within galaxies.

Pyramids are The Word of God written in Stars and Stone

Distinguished writer Adrian Gilbert, stated this much in his book 2012: Mayan Year of Destiny: "By building a gigantic scale model of Heaven on Earth, they were establishing a psychic link to the stars of Orion/Osiris. Then, by carrying out certain funerary rituals, such as the 'Opening of the Mouth' and 'Weighing of the Heart,' within the confines of the pyramids, they could assist the pharaoh's soul in its journey to the land of Osiris: the stars of Orion."

Alan F. Alford of Walsall, England declares: "Ancient sages believed that the future destiny of mankind lay in a return to the Source, i.e. to God and Heaven. The death of the body, they said, did not mark an end but rather a critical mid-point in the human existence. Those who had the secret knowledge could retrace the path to the Heavenly Source and enter the gates to the lost paradise. The knowing soul would then unite with its primeval body-double and materialize in a remarkably Earth-like world."

Ultimately we have rediscovered the secrets to reincarnation that were embedded in The Great Pyramid stones at Giza and the tombs in the Valley of the Kings. They and other related sacred site structures all seek to help us recapture our roots in the stars and point us back home to our Twin Earth in the "star nursery" of the Orion Nebula.

What we've learned is pyramids were not burial tombs, but time bombs! They speak to the end-time of the Earth's Shift on its polar axis realigning us with our home among the stars in the 21st Century now.

Indeed, our “god fathers” or Higher Selves are alive in a twin binary star earthlike system of planets defined by star clusters in the vicinity of the Orion, Sirius, and Pleiades constellations.

Robert Temple, the highly-acclaimed investigator of the Dogon tribe cultural myths in Africa, and also a member of the Royal Astronomical Society in England stated forthrightly in his classic text The Sirius Mystery: New Scientific Evidence of Alien Contact 5,000 Years Ago: “Sirius was, astronomically, the foundation of the entire Egyptian religious system. Its celestial movements determined the Egyptian Calendar, which is even known as the Sothic Calendar.”

Sirius, the Dog Star, is the prime candidate for our Sun’s binary, double, or twin star system.

This insight is shared by archaeo-astronomer Walter Cruttenden, the Executive Director of the Binary Research Institute in Southern California in his book titled Lost Star of Myth and Time and DVD The Great Year.

The Orion Revelation

First and foremost, we look to the Orion Nebula to get oriented in the night sky, as did all the wayfarers on the ground that created the major sacred sites worldwide we have rediscovered.

Indeed NASA has named its new fleet of spacecraft replacing the space shuttle series in 2010, Orion. "Many of its stars have been used for navigation and guided explorers to new worlds for centuries," says Orion project manager Skip Hatfield.

Orion, "The Hunter" in Greek mythology, is one of the largest constellations of star clusters visible everywhere from Earth. It straddles the celestial equator and is a navigational beacon, a lighthouse, to ships at sea and outer space.

This much we know: Orion, Sirius, and Pleiades are calling us to look up again, but pay attention to the Pyramid Text messages typed in stone on the ground at the Giza plateau outside of Cairo.

Many scholars have blazed a trail for us to follow back home to these stars, in particular Graham Hancock, author of Fingerprints of the Gods, and Heaven’s Mirror. Also Adrian Gilbert and Robert Bauval, the sojourners tracking Orion’s “three belt stars” in the landmark book The Orion Mystery.

And Zechariah Sitchin in The Earth Chronicles Handbook. He is an authority on the ancient Sumerian language that predates writing to 3500 B.C. with manuscript fragments speaking to the existence and significance of a Planet “X” that may be in a cycle of eternal return, or binary orbit with Earth.

In his text The 12th Planet published in 1976, Sitchin wrote with respect to extraterrestrial genetic engineering and the human race: "Man is the product of evolution; but modern Man, Homo sapiens, is the product of the 'gods'."

Quite clearly we are witnessing a common theme: We are not alone and never have been but we have been lost in outer space that we could not see through with our third eye open. That is what all the mystics, prophets, and shamans have declared as the truth throughout the Dark Ages: We are blind and dumb to inner space now. Philosopher of religion Jeremy Naydler stated in Temple of the Cosmos: The Ancient Egyptian Experience of the Sacred: “In ancient times, by contrast, inner space was regarded as objective and as existing independently of the human psyche.”

However, it was Egyptologist John Anthony West in his book Serpent in The Sky: The High Wisdom of Ancient Egypt, that solved the riddle of the Sphinx for me with his symbolic insights into the Temple of Man at Luxor.

For in its crumbling ruins, we find carefully crafted stones harmonically calibrated to the sacred geometry of stars and our subtle energy chakra system; and thus our bones and blood are tuned to music of the spheres by them to Orion Nebula.

West confirms that it is dualism, our split-vision between the unconscious and conscious minds that blinds and binds us: “Duality as the call to unchecked chaos and multiplicity is symbolized by the ‘serpent fiend, Apop,’ who devours the souls of the dead and thus denies them reunion with the source [or God].”

Thus we learn that the supreme purpose of pyramids was to open our mind’s eye to starlight.

By example, I include the testimony of Greg Roach, an accomplished computer scientist who had a profound out-of-body vision triggered by a shaft of light in the "immaculate conception room" at the Temple of Seti I in Abydos, after viewing the Flower of Life images for the first time at the Osirion, an underground ceremonial chamber compared by some archaeologists to a Amerindian Kiva in the U.S. desert Southwest.

In his own words, Greg tells us:

“While on an Egyptian Tour visiting the Osirion in Abydos, I had a psyche-shattering experience in the form of a spontaneous, all-encompassing out-of-body vision. After a brief meditation in this Temple, I stood up into a shaft of light that came from an opening in the ceiling. This triggered the most massive change in consciousness I have ever experienced. My sense of the external world fell completely away and I stood in the presence of an ineffable, unexplainable, glory. To my inner eye it took the form of an infinitely recursive living electric fire. I was laughing and crying at the same time. My mind was filled to overflowing with the most remarkable awareness—a glimpse behind the veil and a true experience of the fundamental unity of life.”

Of course, Osiris is the Egyptian Lord of love and the god of the afterlife in Orion and Sirius.

And I had a mountain top experience with the starlight sparkling in Orion’s Nebula in the winter of 2006.

While spending time in the old mining town of Republic, Washington, I happened to gaze up to the three belt stars in Orion. These stars were crystal-clear basking in that below-zero mile-high setting, and I immediately became mesmerized by them. I soon sensed a magnetic power flowing into my mind's third eye and was stunned by this simple rhyme playing in my head: "Twinkle, twinkle little star how I wonder what you are, like a diamond in the sky?"

Clearly, star alignments coordinates, if not creates, our states-of-consciousness on earth with respect to location and the receptive condition of our whole brain and central nervous system.

In fact, the major point I share in this article is credited to Professor Frederick Mills in Atlanta, Georgia, a man who dedicated 35-years of his life to decoding the Geometry of Divinity (or G.O.D.) symbols employed at sacred sites on Earth and Mars.

Fred had a spontaneous out-of-body experience while a graduate student at Texas Technological University that he attributes to his intense preoccupation with geometric symbols used in human communications theory. In many ways, it was the classic kundalini awakening of cosmic consciousness, yet he found himself looking back at Earth from the distance of our moon.

However, he observed the step-by-step sequence of events and knew that what was happening to him could be replicated for everyone that wanted it. Thus Mills launched into a lifetime search to find the golden mean, the dividing line between consciousness and unconsciousness, the key to trance phenomenon. For he knew that his technique can be used as the template for world peace: The experience of oneness with man, nature, and God.

Overall Mills' work bridges the gap between inner and outer space through opening the third eye with a unified field of cosmic consciousness as does the work of Roger Penrose in The Emperor's New Mind and Richard Hoagland in The Monuments of Mars respectively seek to do as well employing a fifth or hyper-dimensional model of physics.

Most recently, Robert and Olivia Temple captured this sacred wisdom of the golden section, the Phi ratio and Fibonacci series, in their textbook The Sphinx Mystery: The Forgotten Origins of the Sanctuary of Anubis, confirming what Mills and I have discussed for a decade. Specifically, the Logos, or the Word of God to the Christian community, is really a reference to this idea the Temple's and we share in common: "The Logos must be crucified to give the promise of eternal life by his resurrection."

Previously the Temple's had asked themselves: "But what is the meaning of the crucifixion? This is the remaining piece of the puzzle. The fact is that the crossbar of the cross represents the major of the upright of the cross divided in golden section, and by combining them ... one was portraying the golden section by a symbol, a cross. Early drawings of crosses often had footbars. So the footbar is the minor, the crossbar is the major, and the upright is the sum of the two together. The minor and the major are in a ratio (logos). Crucified on the cross is the Logos himself, Christ."

In other words, Christ is the code of consciousness, the keyword, ratio, logos of the golden mean line segment sections of the Cross that Mills experienced consciously during his own crucifixion.

His out-of-body “ego death” that is the feeling as one with Christ himself or Osiris to Egyptians or Quetzalcoatl to the Mesoamericans, and so forth. What Mills rediscovered is that we do not die at all because our limited sense of self becomes unlimited in that “Consciousness is King!”

From a science of soul perspective, the larger realization is that pyramids operate on this exact basic geometry set of principles unifying outer and inner space within one’s third eye complex. And this is what the sacred sites were doing by aligning a mountain of stones with specific stars while performing initiating rituals during the seasonal crossings of the equinoxes and solstices: That is, they were crossing themselves in order to resurrect Cosmic Consciousness within them. They were seeking to yoga or unite in a personal relationship with God again as it was in the Garden of Eden Golden Age.

In a real way, it is possible to build a communication device using earth stones much as we do in an electronic printed-circuit board in our laptop computer only with silicon chips as micro-stones yet configured in the same crystal-lattice matrix. Over and over again we see a Master Technology Plan in Pyramids: a satellite communications network linking sacred-stone sites to starlight solar-power sources overhead to self-empower them with information.

To be clear, the Egyptians were calibrating pyramids to very precise alignments with the Sirius star system, Orion’s belt stars, the “Seven Sisters” of the Pleiades and the four fixed signs, Taurus, Leo, Scorpio, and Aquarius in the Zodiac. But especially was the Great Pyramid at Giza complex coordinated with the pole star Polaris in the 21st century—and we will soon see why: To alert us to the coming pole shift.

Therefore, this orientation of sky-to-ground is not a coincidence, a “trick of light and shadow,” with respect to Orion in particular as well as Sirius.

Native American scholar of the Hopi, Gary A. David, has also mapped Orion to the high desert mesas in the State of Arizona, as he reveals in his books The Orion Zone and Eye of the Phoenix. In a recent article titled Seeing Red: Will Betelgeuse Go Supernova in 2012?, he speculates that “beetle juice,” or Alpha Orionis, may have already in fact exploded with its light impacting our solar system and Earth only now.

Then Moria Timms described the effects of cosmic ray showers in her book Beyond Prophecies and Predictions: “In an instant, quicker than the eye could blink or the phosphene flare in the inner dimensions of the mind, the consciousness of the planet was encoded and imprinted. A superluminal transfer of extragalactic frequencies from deep space impregnated the Earth with the starseeds of neutrinos and radiation. Penetrating to the heart of the Earth’s magnetic core, this jump-start of cosmic energy served to accelerate the vibrational frequency of the life force, preparing us for an unprecedented evolutionary leap.”

And here is where we add that star-power fuel supply to the fire kindled in the pyramids, literally. For we now have the engineering data analysis report of Chris Dunn provided in his book titled The Giza Power Plant. Dunn found unmistakable residues in the King’s Chamber of hydrogen gas combustion; that is to say, solar power.

But why we must ask; to do what for who and where?

I mean we find no residues of electric power pole lines used to light the cities in these regions; there are no airport runways, no interstate highways, or high-rise office buildings. There are no excavations unearthing an underlying asphalt jungle, in other words.

It is becoming obvious that our ancestors worshipped the stars for a very wise reason then: DNA tune-ups! They were fine-tuning their subtle energy “soul” body matrix, what Egyptians knew as the Ka and Ba twins, to the very same stars from which they came originally and therefore had a natural organic resonance.

Naturally, we are all made of stardust and we process sunlight through our solar-powered cells. We call that cycle of sunlight-processing in plants “photosynthesis” and in fact that is why we eat the plants, and the animals that also eat those plants, to extract the trapped photons of light from them.

Of course, water, H₂O, is the supreme source of life, and it too is made of the hydrogen plasma filaments cooked by suns and later condensed into green gaseous atmospheres by living planets.

So the evidence left behind by pyramids attests to a lifestyle that is organic, shamanic, and one in complete harmonic balance, or resonance, with the solar sunspot cycles of stars in the night sky. Clearly these stone structures were solar collectors of sunlight, as well as celestial clocks, sunstone calendars calibrated to a 26,000 year cycle of the solstices, and equinoxes, with respect to the Zodiac.

In no uncertain terms, I’m saying sacred sites were designed in accordance with the star chart map of eternal life portrayed in the symbolisms of astrology and alchemy.

One example that speaks to this solar timing-pulse precision in Egypt is The Denderah Zodiac and we know the Mayan Calendar also had a similar purpose, forecasting the future on a galactic, solar, planetary, and personal scale of prediction.

So did the I Ching, the Book of Changes, in Asia.

It may also be the case these oracles, divining tools, were used to track the angle of tilt to our globe between World Sun Ages. Perhaps, a pole shift is a natural organic cycle, akin to how farmers rotate crops between seasons, leaving one section fallow and seeding the other section. Though this would place one land mass or continent underwater and bringing another up to dry land planting status again.

Author of Pole Shift: Predictions and Prophecies of the Ultimate Disaster, John White, has counseled as early as 1980: “Spiritual traditions warn that we shall reap what we sow. Psychic traditions offer an explanation of how and why this must be. The many ‘crimes against nature’ that people are perpetrating—over-population, environmental pollution, wasting of nonrenewable resources, nuclear testing—along with ‘crimes against humanity’ such as war, economic exploitation, the imposition of inhumane living conditions, religious persecution, political abridgement of human rights, intolerance and bigotry toward minorities, etc., are all pouring negative thought forms into the planet's energetic foundation. The result will be geophysical cataclysm: earth changes and a pole shift.”

According to all indigenous cultures, the common denominator that triggers a pole shift is the Sun and its resonant relationship with the Suns behind Our Sun, our Mother Stars within the Galactic Center.

Even human illness is triggered by radical changes in the Sunspot cycles, in particular, viral pandemics brought on by atmospheric changes in climate, that alter jet streams, creating extreme weather patterns and susceptibility to disease. In the final analysis, life is all about the feedback loop of cosmic consciousness that exists between Earth and Sun.

Sunspots shape the Sun's own atmosphere, its corona and solar wind; the short-wavelength solar radiation pulses from ultraviolet to X-ray. They regulate frequency of flares, coronal mass ejections, CMEs, and other solar eruptive phenomena, and modulate the flux of high-energy galactic cosmic rays entering our solar system from the Orion Nebula.

So, ready or not, space weather soon becomes earth weather.

Thus the purpose of Egyptian, and Mayan Sun-worship myths and rituals were scientific—not superstition—based upon a well-calculated survival strategy to routinely bring balance back to the North-South polar axis of The World Tree. In plain terms, pyramids are built to the Golden Mean Phi ratio spiral and the Fibonacci number series standards in order to align The Vitruvian Man with The Galactic Cross.

The Vitruvian Man

The Vitruvian Man is one of Leonardo da Vinci's signature creations that is dated to about 1487 A.D. The design is based upon the notes of Marcus Vitruvius Pollio; a Roman writer, architect, and engineer living 1500 years earlier. The image captures the human body as perfection in nature, the “measure of all things.”

Da Vinci himself said, "The workings of the human body are an analogy for the workings of the universe."

We are speaking to the perfect man living in the perfect place called paradise: The Golden Age.

Mythologist Richard Heinberg reminds us in his book Memories and Visions of Paradise: Exploring the Universal Myth of a Lost Golden Age: “As human consciousness lost contact with its internal, heavenly source of power, technology emerged as a power substitute. Its first appearance was as sympathetic magic and as the invocation of spiritual beings to change Nature for human benefit. However, as human awareness became increasingly restricted to the material world, purely mechanical technologies appeared.”

Indeed, sacred site stone megalith monument technologies are all constructed employing the Golden Mean Spiral. Jill Purce, author of The Mystic Spiral says, “The universal spherical Vortex is perhaps the most complete symbol by which we can map our cosmic journey.”

My colleague, Fred Mills, in fact pointed out to me many years ago that The Vitruvian Man held a key insight into mapping the flow of cosmic consciousness through the double-helix spiral of our DNA macromolecule as well as the pyramids on Earth and Mars.

That is, the so-called Face on Mars and the pyramid complex on its Cydonia plateau mirror the Great Pyramid complex on the Giza plateau as the same geometry is encoded in these structures and The Vitruvian Man. You can overlay this man to the monument; those same angles, ratios, proportions, of the buildings are the human body in all its extraterrestrial glory in other words!

Clearly, there is a message in the fact that Cairo translates to an Egyptian word for Mars as well. It seems that once we connect-the-dots we witness that we are being invited to a family reunion of star-seeded children of the Suns of God.

Investigative mythologist William Henry wrote an article titled Christ’s Cosmic Wormhole. In this third eye-opening treatise, he surveys the history of an instrument of space-travel known as the “djed column” or “Pillar of God.”

He says that this is a forty-five foot tall golden-colored device located in “Temple complexes throughout the ancient world including Egypt and Solomon’s Temple.” Henry speculates the Pillar of God was used in a magical way to open up a vortex spiral, a tunnel into space-time realms throughout the universe.

Now a British academic writer in religious studies and classical philosophy, Dr. Jeremy Naydler, author of Temple of the Cosmos and Shaman Wisdom in the Pyramid Texts, an expert in deciphering Egyptian glyphs and scripts from a mystical, shamanic perspective, says virtually the same thing: “The raising up of the djed column also symbolized the rebirth of the soul. For the Egyptians, the flow of life-giving forces into the world of nature was dependent upon the resurrection of Osiris ‘on the other side’ in the spiritual realm of the Dwat.”

That spiritual realm is centered upon, as is the Great Pyramid, the belt stars of Orion Nebula.

Overall, we are looking at life-enhancing rituals that invoked the sensations of oneness, unity or cosmic consciousness here and now; the heavenly state-of-feeling connected testified to by all mystics, prophets, and shamans as the end-goal of creation: bringing Heaven to Earth.

Again, Richard Heinberg speaks to this desired state in Memories and Visions of Paradise: “The Hopi legend of the First People says that they ‘felt as one and understood one another without talking.’ The original mind seems to have been a kind of living, pulsating web of telepathic interconnectedness, through the strands of which flowed a current of universal love.”

In what the Egyptians called “Zep Tepi, the First Time in Orion,” they could communicate telepathically with our mirror-image Twin Earth until the electromagnetic poles of the earth shifted, flipped the light switch off in our pineal gland, and we found ourselves in the Dark Ages—once again.

That is, our earth's ground-to-sky orientation to the Orion Nebula lost its calibration timing-signal, knocking us off the celestial equator centerline with it and out-of-touch with home base. We then suffered a catastrophic "fall from grace" and a failure to communicate with Mission Control!

We have been in the dark ever since unless a mystic, prophet, or shaman would share insights with us. This fact is illustrated convincingly by anthropologist Jeremy Narby in The Cosmic Serpent: DNA and the Origins of Knowledge.

That is why this multi-dimensional vision of reality was sought after in every culture using substitutes such as alcohol, tobacco, and potent mood-modifying as well as mind-altering drugs made of mushrooms, medicinal herbs such as ayahuasca tea vines, and marijuana plants.

Today this third eye open vision is triggered clinically by using hallucinogens containing DMT, Dimethyltryptamine to flood the pineal gland as has been well-documented by psychiatrist Rick Strassman in his text DMT: The Spirit Molecule.

This then is the spaceflight mission of The Vitruvian Man: To restore heaven on earth consciously in a renewed Garden of Eden. But as we know evolution is a brutal process and it will take our best and brightest efforts to survive the Polaris pole shift of the ages into Aquarius.

Indeed, Our Global Brain is being initiated into the mysteries of cosmic consciousness today as geo-scientist Gregg Braden conveyed in Awakening to Zero-Point: The Collective Initiation and Dr. Jose Arquelles alerted us in The Mayan Factor: The Path Beyond Technology: "The octahedral crystal—two tetrahedra joined together—is the radio-gyroscope holding the harmonic resonance of the Earth in its orbit. The crystal core catches or traps the galactic beams attracted to Earth by mutual resonance."

However, we remain blind and dumb as to the coming Earth Changes for the most part. Politicians and the mass media have our guts all twisted-up into knots over saving the economy when it's the ecology that will save our soul stupid!

We are the geometry, the ratio, Logos of the Word made flesh in the accelerating evolutionary spiral of a galactic-level mutation; biologically this is called a genetic "transposition burst" that is rewriting the non-coding or "junk" language of light codes within DNA.

This is a time of galactic genetic engineering, a cleansing cycle of enhancement as our sense of consciousness is reprogrammed by radiant bursts of star light energy in a new World Sun Age. Again, we call these magnetic pulses of information biophotons; they are signals from stars that communicate cell-to-cell throughout the entire lifecycle of our light body and beyond to the zero-point field.

In other words, we are immortal celestial beings of light right now made of microscopic drops of DNA that are liquid-crystals of sunlight! But when we cannot see creation firsthand at the level of the biophotons through the lens of our third eye, we see only shadows of reality as portrayed symbolically by the images seen on the walls of Plato's Cave.

Hence, we see the severe clashes of cultures during these times of major earth changes in consciousness today especially. For we truthfully cannot see third-eye to eye because the language of the birds—the telepathic symbols used to communicate—have been scrambled by the last pole shift, the metaphoric collapse of the Tower of Babel or Pillar of God.

Thus we have to resort to reports from the mountain-top experiences of mystics, prophets, and shamans as our saviors: From Meru to Olympus to Sinai to Mount of Olives to the Oracles of Delphi.

Yet there is hope because not only are the pyramids and sacred site ruins still resonant with this truth but the crop circles seek to revitalize our “dead” memories as elegantly retold by graphic design artist Freddy Silva in Secrets in the Fields: The Science and Mysticism of Crop Circles. More and more these cryptograms in cereal grains speak to our birthplace among the stars. Whether we examine Egyptian and Mayan hieroglyphs, the myths of Hopi Nation in the Southwestern United States, or crop circle images, we find a common theme in them all: the Hero Twins as binary star companions.

Indeed the idea that we are mirror-images of Christ is a major unifying theme of the Gnostic Gospel of Thomas. In that original text it is written that Jesus, a son of the Sun of God, had a twin brother named Judas Thomas Didymus, and even that is a play on words for twins. For both Thomas and Didymus mean twin, so Jesus supposedly had a twin brother named “twin-twin.”

That is a dead give-away from religion as to the fact that we are clones of Christ and come from the same star seed source in the Orion Nebula.

Robert Temple learned this truth from the Dogon tribe in Africa with respect to Nommo: “The parallels with Christ are extraordinary, even extending to Nommo being crucified on a tree, and forming a Eucharistic meal for humanity and then being resurrected.” The genesis legends of creation are focused on salvation, thus begin and end with a divine pairing of Hero Twins: One saved and one sent to save the other's twin soul brother from a life of hell.

Indeed, the evidence is overwhelming for a Binary Soul Doctrine, or BSD.

Foremost authority on BSD, Peter Novak, documents in a trilogy of texts how he has rediscovered The Lost Secret of Death, Our Divided Souls, and the Afterlife: that if we live without “knowing” the reality of hells and heavens and how to navigate through these realms we get trapped in them once our soul—our conscious and unconscious mind—divides, separates, or splits from our physical body again at its time of death.

This is of course the focus of The Tibetan Book of the Dead. The chants, prayers are to awaken the soul to its situation post-mortem and send it to its eternal home in the sky, or heaven, or as I am suggesting back to the Orion Nebula: our original birthplace that we seek to mirror on earth with sacred site structures, myths, and rituals.

This truth then is what the Gospel of Thomas declared was the meaning to the admonition of Jesus “to make the two, one again.” Our reward for doing so he said was clearly worth our best efforts for in the end “Whoever finds the interpretation of these sayings shall not taste death.”

That is, upon death our soul’s mind will not split itself in two again. Our intellect and affect, our thoughts and feelings, or memories, will not fragment and need to be retrieved from the “pit” we call hell. We can focus our whole integrated mind on returning to Twin Earth through the tunnel-of-light that will open to us as those near-death experiencers that I have interviewed have in fact shared with me is true.

The difference in life, and death, is all about Gnosis: Knowing the truth that will set us free!

In fact, the “pit” in the bottom of the Great Pyramid recreated the dark unknowing of hades, the hell of unconsciousness; its aimless, mindless, soulless wanderings in the after-death realms, claimed author of the comprehensive text on this insight, Decoding The Great Pyramid by Peter Lemesurier.

So the rituals that took place in this specific pyramid complex with its pit, and the ascending Queen to King’s Chamber were focused on resurrecting the “initiate” into remembrance. It was, in no uncertain terms, a shamanic soul retrieval or reincarnation technology that we also need to understand now.

Nor we do not want to lose our way in this earth’s heavens that are floating-freely within the magnetosphere, its fields of dreams, and forget to travel through the looking glass time-tunnel of light consciously that opens upon death into our mirror-image earthlike twin world in the Orion Nebula.

Once more we see that our “failure to communicate” honestly with our selves and each other as well as our binary twin star soul double is the larger plan of salvation.

For we star children can use our life-line to phone home telepathically!

Itzhak Bentov, a biomedical researcher, writes in Stalking the Wild Pendulum: On the Mechanics of Consciousness, “We may say now that in deep meditation the human being and the planet system start resonating at a very long wavelength of about 40,000 kilometers. It is the ideal medium for conveying a telepathic signal.”

Our mind is the Mind of Mother Earth, but what happens to a planet and its people that do not link-up telepathically fast enough, achieve a unified field of mind, co-existence and harmony?

We suffer a severe electromagnetic pole shift due to the “unnatural disasters” we’ve created militarily that unbalanced the organic flow of light energy pulsating around and through the trunk of The World Tree. In the end, we find we have weakened the protective sheath of the magnetosphere that shielded our globe from the lethal doses of gamma-radiation mutations.

That is, we experience the purifying fire of the galactic and solar killing field. Indeed, we must restore environmental balance or we will be recycled in large numbers due to a nuclear catastrophe that triggers a war-ending pole shift is what the scriptures and shamans of every civilization tell us in one way or another.

This worst-case scenario has happened before according to the Sumerian scholar Zechariah Sitchin, declaring “The audacious idea of protecting a planet thermally by creating a shield of particles in its upper atmosphere is not as revolutionary as it seems. It was, I wrote in my 1976 book The Twelfth Planet, exactly the reason why the Anunnaki—‘Those who from Heaven to Earth came’—had come here some 450,000 years ago from their planet Nibiru.”

He adds: “On Nibiru -- ‘Planet X’ of our Solar System – the problem was the opposite one: Loss of internally generated heat due to a dwindling atmosphere, brought about by natural causes and nuclear wars. Nibiru’s scientists, I wrote, concluded that the only way to save life on their planet was to create a shield of gold particles in their upper atmosphere. It was in search of the needed gold that the ‘gods’ of the ancient peoples had come to Earth.”

For Earth, the showstopper is of course an all-out nuclear war, WWIII, known as the Battle of Armageddon, and that is why we focus on the City of Peace, Jerusalem, to see if the global scales of justice will be rebalanced by 2012—or we allow the wheels to fly off the axis of The World Tree.

Time will tell the tale once and for all very, very soon.

There are indeed many reliable sources not the least of which are the near-death experiences that dovetail with my research into Amerindian, Biblical, Egyptian and Mayan End-Time prophecies correlated with massive Earth Changes. One of the pioneers into NDE visions is Dr. Kenneth Ring, a social psychologist, who summarized the message of them to us as follows:

- "There is, first of all, a sense of having total knowledge, but specifically one is aware of seeing the entirety of the earth's evolution and history, from the beginning to the end of time."
- “The future scenario, however, is usually of short duration, seldom extending much beyond the beginning of the twenty-first century. The individual reports that ... there will be an increasing incidence of earthquakes, volcanic activity and generally massive geophysical changes.”
- “There will be resultant disturbances in weather patterns and food supplies. The world economic system will collapse, and the possibility of nuclear war of accident is very great but respondents are not agreed on whether a nuclear catastrophe will occur.”
- “All of these events are transitional rather than ultimate, however, and they will be followed by a new era in human history, marked by human brotherhood, universal love and world peace. Though many will die, the earth will live.”

In fact, according to some near-death experiencers that I have consulted such as Ned Dougherty, the cause of earth's catastrophes is consistent: "Every act of destruction of God's environment on Earth multiplied into destructive forces of nature—earthquakes, floods, pestilence." Equally, he was shown by a being of light in an Egyptian Temple while in what he saw was the Orion constellation that our planet's poles will shift or tilt. He reports, "a shifting of the Earth's axis will create dramatic climatic changes."

Dougherty says further, "During my 'death' experience, I had been told that humankind would evolve into a new and more spiritually transformed race of beings. Perhaps God would bestow upon mankind the ability to communicate telepathically, so that human beings could only then communicate honestly with each other."

In addition, we have the NDE testimony of Reverend Howard Storm who learned from beings of light hovering outside the center of a galaxy what our new heaven and new earth will be like for those alive then: "Everybody was a student of Nature, which they knew intimately and with which they could communicate, knowing the sensations and vibration of every part of creation. People explored outer space without moving an inch. People communicated telepathically with everyone on Earth and had relationships with intelligent beings on other worlds."

Yet Mayan scholar John Major Jenkins understands my immediate concerns clearly and forcefully, commenting in Pyramid of Fire: The Lost Aztec Codex: "The Greek writer Seneca ... gives more details on the Babylonian World Age doctrine, saying that the world is alternately destroyed by flood or fire when the planets line up in Capricorn or Cancer. Such a statement implies that global destructions occur at the two extreme poles of the Great Year of precession."

Russian psychiatrist Immanuel Velikovsky, co-founder of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, and author of Worlds in Collision declared destruction comes when "Two celestial bodies have been attracted one to each other. The inner masses of the Earth were pushed to the periphery. The Earth, with its rotational movement disturbed, started to warm."

Indeed, it is no coincidence that Mark Vidler in his book The Star Mirror: The Extraordinary Discovery of The True Reflection Between Heaven and Earth reports: "All the pyramids of the Old Kingdom have a shaft oriented to the polar region in the sky. This is one axis of the 'mill wheel' of the heavens and the arrival of a brilliant star at this point suggests that the heavenly axis is 'heating up.'"

Vidler adds: "In Hamlet's Mill, Giorgio de Santillana and Hertha von Deschend recover an abundance of evidence confirming the ancient preoccupation with this axis on the celestial sphere and its association with a predicted Earth Shift."

Specifically, Mark Vidler has performed years of careful research into the location of pyramids as gateways to stars. He correlates "stars to mountains," creating a crystal-clear sky-to-ground map that mirrors the geometry of the Great Pyramid. Interestingly, and prophetically, he reveals, "We are told that Polaris is an omen of global shift and have seen the ancient Egyptian murals depicting the sun taking a violent leap when it arrives on the raised limb of Orion."

That is to confirm, we will come under the cosmic ray gun of extremely intense Coronal Mass Ejections from our Sun. These galactic gamma-ray bursts are of concern to astrophysicist Paul LaViolette as he put forth in his book rightly titled Earth Under Fire because of interstellar dust clouds that are creating a thermal blanket around the Sun and cause it to overheat and explode violently in spasms of boiling plasma, CMEs, some of these aimed directly at Earth.

Adrian Gilbert understands as well, and reiterates, “As I have said, the southern star gate is of principle importance because it is also aligned with the center of our galaxy. What this means in practice is that on 21 December 2012, any person observing the Sun will also be looking directly toward the core of the Milky Way: the place where astronomers say there is a black hole with a mass some three hundred million times that of our Sun.”

In summary, in the Apocalypse of John, also known as the Book of Revelation, we are warned that our world will be cast into a solar furnace, a “lake of fire” at the end-of-time. This scenario is in fact what Lou Famoso saw during his near-death, out-of-body experience to be true from the perspective of the Orion Nebula. He saw two balls of fire roar past him headed for our Sun. Then a HUGE CME erupted from it and headed straight for Earth. The result is an estimated 45-degree Pole Shift with simultaneous cataclysmic earthquakes, tsunamis, the sinking of old and rising of new continents, and the explosion of volcanoes on the Ring of Fire. So that we are not caught unawares, blind and dumb, an Angel he identified as Gabriel gave Mr. Famoso the following message to take back to us, and in closing I share that with you now:

“Look to Orion and you will know when the new world will come.”

"The day will come when, after harnessing space, the winds, the tides, gravitation, we shall harness for God the energies of love. And, on that day, for the second time in the history of the world, humankind will have discovered fire." —Pierre Teilhard de Chardin (1881-1955)

About The Author

Dr. John Jay Harper is a clinical hypnotherapist and author of Tranceformers: Shamans of the 21st Century. He and his wife, Connie, live in Spokane, Washington. For more information, please refer to www.johnjayharper.com.